Breaking News

Dear Friends

We had a very frightening situation happen today during service, as Wendi Mull was stricken with chest and extremity pains. I just wanted to let you know that Wendi is out of the hospital and resting here in Wichita Falls. The doctors feel it was a combination of dehydration and low blood pressure that brought on the event. I'm told that she will be fine. Praise God! As I prayed the Community Prayer today, I mentioned how this congregation senses the pain and hurt of its people, and this was evident today as Wendi was stricken. Everyone was quick to come to her aid, including OR nurses, MJ Walker and Debra Stunson. In different parts of the sanctuary, groups of people were praying. I am so proud to be a member of this congregation, where we are a family and love each other. I ask that you continue to pray for Wendi and Taylor during the next week, so that we may welcome them back next Sunday.

Blessings and Peace

Barbara
