Breaking News

Dear Friends

I received this news release from the fellowship today.

A Message From

Rev. Elder Nancy Wilson, Moderator September 11, 2008

Dear MCC Friends and Family:

We invite you to please join the people of Metropolitan Community Churches around the world for a moment of silence today as we remember the events of September 11, 2001.

In light of this, we commend the prayer below to you and invite you to use it in your congregation -- both in public worship services and through newsletters and e-mail lists -- to connect and reconnect with those around you and to offer our prayers to God.

God, whose nature and name is love, help us to be a people of love and not fear today. Jesus, Prince of Peace, help us to see beyond our own suffering and loss, to be in solidarity today with those who live in 9/11 conditions on a daily basis. God, bless the United States of America today. As we face the serious choice of new national leadership, may we be thoughtful, attentive and engaged. In this increasingly complex world, may we lift up leadership that will make a difference for people everywhere, not only in our own nation. God, comfort all who mourn today. Help us to create a world where terror and fear, violence and war are weapons of the past, and where respect, justice and peace reign.

Grace and Peace
